THE ONLY HONEST PROTECTION.

The question of the tariff should be one, and is honestly one, of wages only. The tariff should be just so high, and no higher, as to protect Americans against European labor. That is the only "protection" needed in this country. Having thus "protected" the American labor engaged in manufacturing industries, it should "protect" the other more extensive American labor not employed in manufacturing industries by giving it an opportunity to buy everything it needs at he lowest possible price, and not compel it, as at present, to buy of monopolists, trusts or combinations. A tariff that will honestly protect American labor in all directions, and be sufficient for the honest and economical administration of the Government, is the only tariff needed in this country.

General Garfield summoned up the average Western opinion on the tariff question in a speech made by him in the house of representatives when he said: I hold that a properly adjusted competition between home and foreign products is the best gauge by which to regulate international trade. Duties should be so high that our manufacturers can fairly compete with the foreign product, but not so high as to drive out the foreign articles, enjoy a monopoly of the trade, and regulate the price as they please. This is my doctrin of protection. If congress pursues this line of policy we shall, year by year, approach more nearly to the basis of free trade, because we shall be more nearly able to compete with other nations on equal terms. I am for a protection which leads to ultimate free trade. I am for that free trade which can only be achieved by a reasonable protection.

a man for groaning when he has Rheumatism or Neuralgia. The pain is simply awful. No torture in the ancient times was more painful than these twin diseases. But—oughtn't a man to be blamed if, having Rheumatism or Neuralgia, he wont use Ath-lo-pho-ros, when it has cured thousands who have suffered in the same way? It has cured hundreds after physicians have pronounced them incurable.

"The skill of five physicians could not cure me of Rheumatism which had settled in the hips, neck and shoulders. So intense was the pain that sleep was almost impossible. The first dose of Athlophoros gave me relief, and the third enabled me to sleep for four and a half hours without waking. I continued its use, and am now well."

THE BEER WAR COMMENCES.

Brewers to Shut Down and Employes to Retaliate.

NEW YORK, April 16.—The beer war commences to-day. The pool brewers will close their breweries at noon because the boycott placed on certain members has not been removed by the Central Labor Unions of Newark and Brooklyn. To add flames to the fire the Central Labor Union of this city yesterday decided to boycott, although the action is not called by that name all pool beer. While a number of brewers have been especially selected for the boycott, it applies to all.

It is going to be a tough fight between organized capital and organized labor.

On one side is the brewers' association with its combined millions, and on the other are the combined trade and labor organizations with their hundreds of thousands of members.

The pool brewers may make beer with non-union men, but organized workingmen will not drink it. Both trades unionists and Knights of Labor are combined in the fight.

About five thousand workingmen will be thrown out of employment to-day. They say they are fighting an attempt to break up their organization, while the master brewers claim that they are battling against dictation.

A large number of saloon keepers have laid in a week's supply of beer so as to be able to stand the siege. Many of them will buy no more beer from the pool when their present stock is exhausted.

The non-pool brewers are delighted, and expect an enormous increase of business. Union workingmen will not only refuse to drink pool beer, but will refuse to patronize any place where it is sold, and the outlook for saloon keepers is not cheerful.

It will be impossible for the few non-pool breweries to supply the demand, and if the fight keeps up there will be a beer famine.

BEER AND BREAD.

Twelve Hundred Bakers to Go Out at Chicago — Tired of the Unions.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 16.—The strike fever is on here now and early to-morrow morning twelve hundred bakers will be out, and Chicago must eat home made bread or none.

As in the case of the brewers, the bakers under the influence of the Central Labor Union are eager to go out, the reason they assign being that the boss bakers have decided not to sign another contract recognizing the union's existence.

When a committee of the Union waited upon the bosses they received no satisfaction, which is the reason of the present strike. The boss bakers claim that they have about seven hundred men within twenty hours' call, and with these they can supply their customers and get along until outside men come in. They say they are tired of having the Central Labor Union manage their business, and if not allowed to run their shops as they see fit they will close up altogether and let the people of Chicago bake their own bread.

Should there be a bread famine for two three days the consequences would be serious; but no one anticipates any such result.

The people have had so many scares lately that they have become hardened to them. The Central Labor Union has taken up the fight as earnestly as that of the brewers, and "Beer and Bread" will be the rallying cry for the campaign.

Ryan Won't Marry Miss Parsons.

PITTSBURG, April 13.—It is about settled that Ensign Ryan will not marry Miss Minnie Parsons, the young lady who, it was alleged, he had abducted. The Lieutenant has decided to pursue this course, and his friends insist that he will stick to his determination, even though the matter has to be taken to the courts for settlement. Miss Minnie herself is very much agitated, and wants to return to New York in order to resume her theatrical engagement. It is said she is inclined to drop the suit against the young naval officer, but to this her parents object. They want to push the case to the bitter end.

Knights to Fight the Union.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 15.—The fifth division of National District 217, Knights of Labor, was organized in this city yesterday. Powderly will now issue a charter and the Knights of Labor will at once begin the organization of the iron and steel workers of the United States in opposition to the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers. The National Association meeting will be held in this city June 4.

Awarded $8,000 Damages.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., April 15.—Miss Sarah Chellis, aged 40 years, a teacher in a public school in this city, sued John B. Chapman, a farmer, aged 73 years, who has property amounting to over $100,000, for breach of promise of marriage, and in the Supreme Court here yesterday a jury rendered a verdict in her favor for $8,000. The amount claimed was $10,000.

War on Albany Liquor Dealers.

ALBANY, April 14.—The Law and Order League of this city has obtained evidence and will proceed at once to prosecute all persons who kept saloons open within a quarter-mile of a polling place on election day. As nearly every one of the thousand saloons in the city is within the prescribed distance, a lively time is expected.

Died from Smoking Cigaretts.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 15.—Josephus D. Mehus, Jr., a seventeen-year-old boy, died yesterday after a short illness from cigarette smoking. He smoked nearly four large packs of cigarettes a day and inhaled the smoke. His lungs were badly diseased and he wasted away very rapidly.

Conviction of a Physician.

EASTON, Pa., April 16. Dr. H. M. Cox, of Port Murray, was found guilty of malpractice at 1 o'clock yesterday. There will be a motion for a new trial. The accomplices in the alleged malpractice resulting in Jennie Osborne's death will be tried next teem.

Made Insane By a False Charge.

READING, April 16.—Annie Eisenhower, age twenty-one, a respectable woman of Long Swamp Township, was accused of the larceny of money.

MRS. DISS DEBAR DISGORGES.

Mr. Marsh's Property Deeded Back to Him—No Bail Yet

NEW YORK, April 16.—The residence of Luther R. Marsh, 166 Madison avenue which for a few weeks past has been known as a Temple of Truth—a terrestrial refuge for the High Priestess of the spirits and hea satellates is a temple no longer. The High Priestess, Mrs. Diss Debar from her lonely cell in the Tombs, has sent forth the cry of "enough" and has restored to Mr. Marsh his home.

John D. Towsend, Mme. Dis Debar's counsel, gave a history yesterday of the transaction by which Mr. Marsh's house is returned to him. He said that no further application would be made to bail Mme. Dis Debars or those imprisoned with her on the charge of conspiracy before the hearing, which is set for next Wednesday. Continuing, he said: "Before I called to see Mme. Dis Debar Friday morning I had determined to test her by declining to be retained in her behalf unless she offered to return to Mr. Marsh the house and furniture he had deeded to her. When brought into the counsel room she had a letter in her hand which was addressed to Mr. Marsh, and which she requested me to read, and if I approved to hand to that gentleman.

NEW YORK, April 13, 1888,
TOMBS POLICE PRISON.

DEAR MR. MARSH: It shall not be said that I have not done all in my power to place things in their proper light and to mitigate your share of our common affliction. The whole persecution of me is based on the ownership of 166 madison avenue. To dispose of that question at once, I hereby sincerely and freely offer you, as I did months ago, that house and whatsoever belongs to you in it. If you will call and see me with the proper papers I will execute them at once. As the press claims you to be insane because you voluntarily deeded this property to me, to take effect after your death, let me urge you to at once accept the return as I offer it, if only as a means of establishing your sanity. If by such act of mine you can regain the confidence of your friends as to your mental integrity I shall only be too glad.

I am, my dear and noble friend, with very distinguished respect and consideration.
E. L. DIS DEBARS.

"After leaving the prison," continued Mr. Townsend, "I at once informed Mr. Marsh that I had such a letter, and requested him if he would receive the property, to prepare a proper deed and meet me at my office. He came and we went to the prison, and both Mrs. Diss De Bars and the General executed the deed.

"Mr. Marsh and I (at Mr. Marsh's request) then called upon Justice Kilbreth. Mr. Marsh showed the letter and deed to that official, and offered himself again as bail for all the imprisoned party, stating that he could justify in more than $50,000. Justice Kilbreth declined to accept him as bail, saying that, while he did not intimate that he was insane, he felt that on the subject of Mrs. Diss Debar his judgment was not as correct as in regard to other particulars."

Confederate Pensions Very Costly.

CHRLESTON, S. C., April 16.—At the last session of the Legislature an act was passed giving a pension of $5 per month to all disabled Confederate veterans or their widows. The act appropriated $50,000 and authorized the Treasurer to borrow as much as was needed after the appropriation was exhausted. The Pension Board is now in session, and they are appalled at the number of applications pouring in. It would require at least $2 0,000 to pay the pensions applied for. Many good soldiers now regard the whole scheme as a mistake, but they are afraid to take steps to secure the repeal of the law. Taxpayers object to the increased burden on them and the numbers of applicants who were refused pensions will have something to say.

Burlington Completes Its Resumption.

CHICAGO, April 16.—The Chicago Burlington and Quincy completed the resumption of passenger traffic by sending out the fast train to Denver known as the "Eli." This places the passenger service exactly where it was at the time the strike occurred weeks ago. The freight business is already nearing its former volume. The strike and its effects will soon be a mere matter of history. A bitter fight occurred yesterday between St. Paul and Burlington switchmen in the yards of the St. Paul Road on Western avenue. Nobody was hurt. Three of the union switchmen were arrested.

New Plan of the Flint-Glass Makers.

PITTSBURG, April 15.—The latest move of the flint-glass manufacturers leaked out out yesterday. They will make another effort to start their factories, this time with men who are members of the Flint-Glass Workers' Association. They will give a bond to every flint-glass worker who returns to work, guaranteeing to him preference at all times and freedom from blacklisting or discharge and a position for life.

Aid for Justice Waite's Widow.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The fund which is being raised for Mrs. Waite, widow of the late Chief-Justice, grows apace. Subscriptions are coming in from prominent people all over the country, including members of the Cabinet, Justices of the Supreme Court, bankers and leading lawyers. Something over $10,000 has thus far been secured.

Still Harassing Our Fishermen.

MONTREAL, April 14.—The government has issued instructions to the fishery officials notifying them that last year's regulations with respect to American fishery vessels will be continued until after the Dominion Parliament passes the treaty, and until the United States Senate take action, a modus vivendi will be put in effect.

Mr. Mills in Improved Health.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Representative Mills arrived in this city last night from Fort Monroe, where he has been for the last week. His health is much improved, though he is not entirely well. He says he will be in the House of Representatives on Tuesday.

Fatal Fight at Cumberland Gap.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 15.—Reports from Cumberland Gap say that another fight occurred among the strikers there yesterday, resulting in the death of one man.

Serious Condition of the Emperor.

BERLIN, April 16.—The Emperor was confined to his bed all day yesterday with a violent cough.

-SPRING & SUMMER OPENING,-

PALACE OF BEAUTY

From DAILY NEWS, Feb. 6:

Never before do we remember to have seen anywhere, a store arranged with more-superb taste and beauty than that of D. Garman & Son, on Allegheny street. A scene of the most brilliant aud captivating description bursts upon the vision, for which the eye is partially prepaired on beholding the display in the front windows where a few elegant goods are mingled with rare fruits and ornaments. Inside there is a commingling of rare laces, velvets, satins, etc., displayed in the most beautiful manner, composing a picture which Alladin's fairy palace never approached and cannot be excelled at any of the emporiums of fashion in the metropolis. In a case at the front of the store is an exquisite array of fans. Above is a display of black lace over rich colored goods. Next in line is the white lace similarily displayed and the costliest black Chantilly lace in elegant profusion. At intervals are draped curtains of the richest description and in the rear is a canopy of lace curtains within which is an electric light in a colored globe. The beauty of this is undescribable. The Turkish portoirre is a novelty which will delight many visitors to the store. Theother goods kept by Mr. Garman are all there in greater beauty and profusion than ever before. No shopping expedition can be complete without including this store.

DR. TALMAGE'S SERMON

The Angels of the Grass.

"If then God so clothe the grass, which is to-day in the field and to-morrow is cast into the oven, how much more will He clothe you, O ye of little faith?"—Luke 12 : 28.

The lily is the queen of Bible flowers. The rose may have disputed her throne in modern times, and won it; but the rose originally had only five petals. It was under the long-continued and intense gaze of the world that the rose blushed into its present beauty. In the Bible train, cassia and hyssop and frankincense and myrrh and spikenard and camphire and the rose follow the lily. Fourteen times in the Bible is the lily mentioned; only twice the rose. The rose may now have wider empire, but the lily reigned in the time of Esther, in the time of Solomon, in the time of Christ. Cæsar had his throne on the hills.

THE LILY HAD HER THRONE

in the valley. In the greatest sermon that was ever preached, there was only one flower, and that a lily. The Bedford dreamer, John Bunyan entered the House of the Interpreter, and was shown a cluster of flowers, and was told to "consider the lilies."

We may study or reject other sciences at our opinion. It is so with astronomy, it is so with chemistry, it is so with jurisprudence, it is so with physiology, it is so with geology; but the science of botany Christ commands us to study when He says: "Consider the lilies." Measure them from root to tip of petal. Inhale their breath. Notice the gracefulness of their poise. Hear the whisper of the white lips of the Eastern and of the red lips of the American lily.

Belonging to this royal family of lilies is the lily of the Nile, the Japan lily, the lady Washington of the Sierras, the Golden Band lily, the Giant lily of Nepaul, the Turk's Cap lily, the African lily from the Cape of Good Hope. All these lilies have the royal blood in their veins. But I take the lilies of my text this morning as typical of all flowers, and this Easter day garlanded with all this opulence of floral beauty, seems to address us saying: "Consider the lilies, consider the azaleas, consider the fuchsias, consider the geraniums, consider the ivies, consider the hyacinths, consider the heliotropes, consider the oleanders." With deferential and grateful and intelligent and worshipful souls, consider them. Not with insipid sentimentalism, or with sophomoric vaporing, but for grand and practical and every-day, and, if need be, homely, uses, consider them.

The flowers are the angels of the grass. They all have voices. When the clouds speak, they thunder; when the whirlwinds speak, they scream; when the cataracts speak, they rear; but when they always whisper. I stand here to interpret their message. What have you to say, O ye angels of the grass, to this worshipful multitude? This morning I mean to discuss what flowers are good for. That is my subject: What are flowers good for?

I. I remark, in the first place, they are good for lessons of God's providential care. That was Christ's first thought. All these flowers seem to address us today, saying: "God will give you apparel and food. We have no wheel with which to spin, no loom with which to weave, no sickle with which to harvest, no well-sweep with which to draw water; but God slakes our thirst with the dew, and God feeds us with the bread of the sunshine, and God has apparelled us with more then Solomonic regality. We are

PROPHETESSES OF ADEQUATE WARDROBE.

"If God so clothed us, the grass of the field, will He not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith?" Men and women of worldly anxieties, take this message home with you. How long has God taken care of you? Quarter of the journey of life? half the journey of life? three-quarters the journey of life? Can you not trust Him the rest of the way? God does not promise you anything like that which the Roman emperor had on his table at vast expense—five hundred nightingales' tongues—but He has promised to take care of you. He has promised you the necessities, not the luxuries—bread, not cake. If God so luxuriantly clothes the grass of the field, will He not provide for you, His living and immortal children? He will.

No wonder Martin Luther always had a flower on his writing-desk for inspiration! Through the cracks of the prison floor a flower grew up to cheer Picciola. Mungo Park, the great traveller and explorer, had his life saved by a flower. He sank down in the desert to die, but seeing a flower near by, it suggested God's merciful care, and he got up with new courage and travelled on to safety. I said the flowers are the angels of the grass. I add now they are the evangels of the sky.

II. If you insist on asking me the question, What are flowers good for? I respond, they are day. The bride must have them on her brow, and she must have them in her hand. The marriage altar must be covered with them. A wedding without flowers would be as inappropriate as a wedding without music. At such a time they are for congratulation and prophecies of good. So much of the pathway of life is covered up with thorns, we ought to cover the beginning with orange-blossoms.

Flowers are appropriate on such occasions, for in ninty nine out of a hundred cases it is the very best thing that could have happened. The world may criticise and pronounce it an inaptitude, and may lift its eyebrows in surprise and think it might suggest something better; but the God who sees the twenty, forty, fifty years of wedded life before they have begun, arranges for the best. So that flowers, in almost all cases, are appropriate for the marriage day. The divergence of disposition will become correspondences, recklessness will become prudence, frivolity will be turned into practicality.

There has been many an aged widowed soul who had a carefully locked bureau, and in the bureau a box, and in the box a folded paper, and in the folded paper slightly fragrant, discolored, carefully pressed. She put it there forty or fifty years ago. On the anniversary day of her wedding she will go to the bureau, she will lift the box, she will unfold the paper, and to her eyes will be exposed the half-blown bud, and the memories of the past will rush upon her, and a tear will drop upon the flower, and suddenly it is transfigured, and there is a stir in the dust of the anther, and it rounds out, and it is full of life, and it begins to tremble in the procession up the church aisle, and the dead music of half a century ago comes throbbing through the air; and vanished faces reappear, and right hands are joined, and a manly voice promises: "I will, for better or for worse," and the wedding march thunders a salvo of joy at the departing crowd: but a sigh on that anniversary day scatters the scene. Under the deep-fetched breath, the altar, the flowers, the congratulating groups are scattered, and there is nothing left but a trembling hand holding a faded rosebud, which is put into the paper, and then into the box, and the box carefully placed in the bureau, and with a sharp, sudden click of the lock the scene is over.

Ah, my friends, let not the prophecies of the flowers on your wedding day, be false prophecies. Be blind to each other's faults. Make the most of each other's excellences. Above all, do not both get mad at once! Remember the vows, the ring on the third finger of the left hand, and the benediction of the calla lilies.

III. If you insist on asking me the question, What are flowers good for? I answer, They are good to honor and comfort the obsequies. The worst gash ever made into the side of our poor earth is the gash of the grave. It is so deep, it is so cruel, it is so incurable, that it needs something to cover it up. Flowers for the casket, flowers for the hearse,

FLOWERS FOR THE CEMETERY.

What a contrast between a grave in a country churchyard with the fence broken down, and the tombstone aslant and the neighboring cattle browsing amid the mullein stalks and the Canada thistles, and a June morning in Greenwood, the wave of roseate bloom rolling to the top of the mounds and then breaking into foaming crests of white flowers all around the pillows of dust. It is the difference between sleeping under rags and sleeping under an embroidered blanket. We want Old Mortality with his chisel to go through all the graveyards in Christendom, and while he carries a chisel in one hand we want Old Mortality to have some flower-seed in the palm of the other hand.

"Oh," you say, "the dead don't know; it makes no difference to them." I think you are mistaken. There are not so many steamers and trains coming to any living city as there are to earth; and if there be instantaneous and constant communication between this world and the better world, do you not suppose your departed friends know what you do with their bodies? Why has God planted "golden-rod" and wild flowers in the forest and on the prairie, where no human eye ever sees them? He planted them there for invisible intelligences to look at and admire, and when invisible intelligences come to look at the wild-flowers of the woods and the table-lands, will they not make excursions and see the flowers which you have planted in affectionate remembrance of them?

When I am dead I would like to have a handful of violets—anyone could pluck them out of the grass, or some one could lift from the edge of the pond a water-lily—nothing rarely expensive, or insane display, as sometimes at funeral rites, where the display takes the bread from the children's mouths, and the clothes from their backs, but something from the great democracy of flowers. Rather than imperial catafalque of Russian czar, I ask some one whom I may have helped by gospel sermon or Christian deed to bring a sprig of arbutus or a handful of China asters.

It was left for modern times to spell respect for the departed and comfort for the living in letters of floral gospel. Pillow of flowers, meaning rest for the pilgrim who has got to the end of his journey. Anchor of flowers, suggesting the Christian hope which we have as an anchor to the soul, sure and steadfast. Cross of flowers, suggesting the tree on which our sins were slain.

If I had my way, I would cover up all the dreamless sleepers, whether in gold-handled casket or pine box, whether a king's mausoleum or Potter's field, with radiant or aromatic arboresence. The Bible says in the midst of the garden there was a sepulchre. I wish that every sepulchre might be in the midst of a garden.

IV. If you insist on asking me the question, What are flowers good for? I answer

FOR RELIGIOUS SYMBOLISM.

Have you ever studied Scriptural flora? The Bible is an arbetum, it is a divine conservatory; it is a herbarium of exquisite beauty. If you want to illustrate the brevity of the brightest human life, you will quote from Job:—"A man cometh forth as a flower and is cut down." Or you will quote from the Psalmist: "As the flower of the field, so he perisheth; the wind passeth over it, and it is gone." Or you will quote from Isaiah: "All flesh is grass, and the goodliness thereof is as the flower of the field." Or you will quote from James the Apostle: "As the flower of the grass, so he passeth away." What graphic Bible symbolism!

All the cut flowers of this Easter day will soon be dead, whatever care you take of them. Though morning and night you baptize them in the name of the shower; the baptism will not be to them a saving ordinance. They have been fatally wounded with the knife that cut them. They are bleeding their life away: they are dying now. The fragrance in the air is their departing and ascending spirits. Oh, yes!

FLOWERS ARE ALMOST HUMAN.

Botanists tell us that flowers breathe, they take nourishment, they eat, they drink. They are sensitive. They have their likes and dislikes. They sleep, they wake. They live in families. They have their ancestors and their descendants, their death, their burial, their cradle, their grave. The zephyr rocks the one, and the storm digs the trench for the other. The cowslip must leave its gold, the lily must leave its silver, the rose must leave its diamond necklacke of morning dew. Dust to dust. So we come up, we prosper, we spread abroad, we die, as the flower—as the flower!

"Change and decay in all around I see:
O Thou who changest not, Abide with me!"

Flowers also afford mighty

SYMBOLISM OF CHRIST,

who compared himself to the ancient queen, the lily, and the modern queen the rose, when He said: "I am the rose of Sharon, and the lily of the valleys." Redolent like the one, humble like the other. Lik both, appropriate for the sad who want sympathizers, and for the rejoicing who want banqueters. Hovering over the marriage ceremony like a wedding bell, or folded like a chaplet on the pulseless heart of the dead. Oh, Christ! let the perfume of thy name be wafted all around the earth—lily and rose, lily and rose—until the wilderness crimson into a garden, and the round earth turn into one great bud of immortal beauty laid against the warm heart of God. Snatch down from the world's banner eagle and lion, and put on lily and rose, lily and rose.

But, my friends, flowers have no grander use than when on Easter morning we celebrate the reanimation of Christ from the catacombs. The FLOWERS SPELL RESURRECTION.

There is not a nook or corner in all the building but is touched with the incense. The women carried spices to the tomb of Christ, and they drooped spices all around about the tomb, and from those spices have grown all the flowers of Easter morn. The two white-robed angels that hurled the stone away from the door of the tomb, hurled it with such violence down the hill that it crashed in the door of the world's sepulchre, and millions of dead shall come forth.

However labyrinthine the mausoleum, however costly the sarcophagus, however architecturally grand the necropolis, however beautifully parterred the family grounds, we want them all broken up by the Lord of the Resurrection. The forms that we laid away with our broken hearts must rise again. Father and mother—they must come out. Husband and wife—they must come out. Brothers and sisters—they must come out. Our darling children—they must come out. The eyes that with trembling fingers we closed, must open in the lustre of Resurrection morn. The arms that we folded in death must join ours in embrace of reunion. The beloved voice that was hushed must be returned. The beloved form must come up without its infirmities, without its fatigues—it must come up.

Oh, how long it seems for some of you! Waiting—waiting for the Resurrection! How long! how long! I make for your broken hearts to-day a cool, soft bandage of Easter lilies. Last night we had come in the mails a beautiful Easter card; on the top of it a representation of and under it the Inscription: "The trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised." I comfort you this day with the thought of Resurrection.

When Lord Nelson was buried it St. Paul's Cathedral in London, the heart of all England was stirred. The procession passed on amid the sobbing of a nation. There were thirty trumpeters stationed at the door of the Cathedral, with instruments of music in hand, waiting for the signal, and when the illustrious dead arrived at the gates of St. Paul's Cathedral, these thirty trumpeters gave one united blast, and then all was silent. Yet the trumpets did not wake the dead. He slept right on.

But I have to tell you, what thirty trumpeters could not do for one man, one trumpeter will do for all nations. The ages have rolled on, and the clock of the world's destiny strikes nine, ten, eleven, twelve, and time shall be no longer!

BEHOLD THE ARCHANGEL HOVERING!

He takes the trumpet, points it this way, puts its lips to his lips, and then blows one long, loud, terrific, thunderous, reverberating and resurrectionary blast. Look! Look! They rise! The dead! The dead! Some coming forth from the family vault. Some from the city cemetery. Some from the country graveyard. Here a spirit is joined to its body, and there another spirit is joined to another body, and millions of departed spirits are assorting the bodies, and then reclothing themselves in forms radiant for ascension.

The earth begins to burn—the bonfire of a great victory. All ready now for the procession of reconstructed humanity! Upward and away! Christ leads and all the Christian dead follow, battalion after battalion, nation after nation, Up, up! On on! Forward, ye ranks of God Almighty! Lift up your heads, ye everlasting gates, and let the conquerors come in! Resurrection! Resurrection.

And so I twist all the festal flowers of this church with all the festal flowers of chapels and cathedrals of all Christendom into one great chain, and with that chain I bind the Easter morning of 1888 with the closing Easter of the world's history—Resurrection! May the God of peace that brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, that great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the covenant, make you perfect in every good work to do His will.

A Manifesto from Women.

The International Council of Women has issued a circular setting forth that it was the unanimous voice of the Council that all institutions of learning and of professional instruction, including schools of theology, law and medicine, should be as freely opened to women as to men; the opportunity for industrial training should be as liberally provided for one sex as the other; that equal wages be paid for equal work, and that society should establish and maintain an identical standard of personal purity and morality for men and women.

LESSON ANALYSIS.

I. THE EXPECTED BRIDEGROOM.

I. The Bridegroom:

Ten virgins....went forth to meet the bridegroom (1).

As the bridegroom rejoiceth over the bride, so shall thy God (Isa. 62 : 5).

Can the sons....mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? (Matt. 9 : 15).

He that hath the bride is the bridegroom (John 3 : 29).

The marriage of the Lamb is come (Rev. 19 : 7).

II. The Foolish:

The foolish....took no oil with them (3).

The foolish despise wisdom (Prov. 1 : 7).

The thought of the foolish is sin (Prov. 24 : 9).

A foolish man, which built his house upon the sand (Matt. 7 · 26).

O foolish men, and slow of heart to believe (Luke 24 : 25).

III. The Wise:

The wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps (4).

He that gathereth in summer is a wise son (Prov. 10 : 5).

There is....oil in the dwelling of the wise (Prov. 21 : 20).

He giveth wisdom unto the wise (Dan. 2 : 21).

Be ye therefore wise as serpents (Matt. 10 : 16).

1. "Ten virgins....took their lamps, and went forth." (1) The virgins; (2) The lamps; (3) The outgoing.—(1) Points of similarity; (2) Points of variance.
2. "Five of them were foolish and five were wise." (1) The characteristics of the foolish; (2) The characteristics of the wise.
3. "The wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps." The provision of the wise virgins: (1) Lamps; (2) Vessels; (3) Oil.

II. THE HURRIED PREPARATION.

I. The Midnight Cry:

Behold, the bridegroom! Come ye forth to meet him (6).

They shall see the Son of man coming (Matt. 24 : 30).

The Son of man shall come in his glory (Matt. 25 : 31).

The Lord himself shall descend....with a shout (1 Thess. 4 : 16).

Behold, he cometh with the clouds (Rev. 1 : 7).

II. The Unavailing Plea:

Give us of your oil; for our lamps are going out (8).

Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer (Prov. 1 : 28).

Lord, Lord, open to us (Matt. 25 : 12).

We did eat and drink in thy presence (Luke 13 : 26).

Fall on us, and hide us (Rev. 6 : 16).

III. The Pertinent Counsel.

Go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves (9).

Buy the truth, and sell it not (Prov. 23 : 23).

Buy wine and milk without money and without price (Isa. 55 : 1).

He....sold all that he had, and bought it (Matt. 13 : 46).

Buy of me gold refined by fire (Rev. 3 : 18).

1. "At midnight there is a cry." (1) (1) The time of the cry; (2) The import of the cry; (3) The effects of the cry.
2. "Give us of your oil: for our lamps are going out" (1) The flickering lamps; (2) The empty vessels; (3) The anxious plea.
3. "Go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves." (1) The needed oil; (2) The possible supply; (s) The prescribed purchase.

III. THE FATAL DISAPPOINTMENT.

I. Opportunity Missed:

While they went away to buy, the bridegroom came (10).

He seemed unto his sons in law as one that mocked (Gen. 19 : 14).

As thy servant was busy here and there, he was gone (1 Kings (20 : 40).

How often would I,....and ye would not (Matt. 23 : 37).

If thou hadst known in this day! (Luke 19 : 42).

II. Opportunity Ended:

They were ready went in:....and the door was shut (10).

The harvest is past,....and we are not saved (Jer. 8 : 20).

Behold, your house is left to you desolate (Matt. 23 : 38).

The flood came, and took them all away (Matt. 24 : 39).

Now they are hid from thine eyes (Luke 19 : 42).

III. Acceptance Refused:

Lord, Lord, open to us....I know you not (11, 12).

They shall seek me,....but they shall not find me (Prov. 1 : 28).

When ye make many prayers, I will not hear (Isa. 1 : 15).

Then will I profess unto them, I never knew you (Matt. 7 : 23).

I know you not whence ye are (Luke 13 : 25).

1. "They that were ready went in with him." (1) The marriage feast; (2) The bridal party; (3) The accepted guests.
2. "The door was shut." (1) Including the wise; (2) Excluding the foolish.—(1) The brightness within; (2) The darkness without; (3) The separating door.
3. "Watch therefore, for ye know not the day nor the hour." (1) The unknown day; (2) The imperative duty.

LESSON BIBLE READING.

WHO ARE FOOLS.

Atheists (Psa. 14 ; 1; 94 : 6-8).
Blasphemers (Psa. 74 : 18, 22).
Persistent offenders (Deut. 32 : 5, 6; Prov. 13 : 19; 14 : 9).
The spiritually ignorant (Psa. 92 : 5, 6; Prov. 18 : 2).
The self-satisfied (Prov. 12 : 15; 26 : 12; 28 : 26).
Pharisees (Luke 11 :39, 40).
Boasters (Rom. 1 : 22).
Meddlers (Prov. 20 : 3).
Gossips (Prov, 15 : 2; 29 : 11; Eccl. 5 : 3; 10 : 14).
Drunkards (Prov. 20 : 1).
The avaricious (Jer. 17 : 11; Luke 12 : 16-21).
The passionate (Prov. 27 : 3; Eccl. 7 : 9).

LESSON SURROUNDINGS.

The twenty-fifth chapter of Matthew has no parallel in the other Gospels. But its contents, as well as its position in the narrative, indicate that it forms a continuation of the discourse from which the last lesson was taken. The present lesson follows that immediately.

Hence the place was the mount of Olives, and the time late on Tuesday, the twelfth of Nisan (or, beginning of the thirteenth), April 4, year of Rome 783.—A. D. 30.

L'Enfant Terrible.

Mrs. Shamm gave a small but very elegant tea the other evening, and, as a reward for being good for two hours, she allowed her son Bertie, aged 10, to sit at table with the guests. As an example of cold-blooded villainy we give a few of the remarks made by Master Bertie during the progress of the meal:

"Ma," he asked first, "whose spoons are these?"

"Hush, dear," said Mrs. Shamm.

He hushed for a second, then:

"Ma, whose big glass dish is that?"

"Little boys should be seen and not heard," said Mrs. Shamm with a sick smile that did not conceal from the guests the fact that there was a fearful reckoning in store for Bertie on their departure.

"Say, ma," he put in, interrupting old Mrs. Moneyweight, who was the special guest of the occasion, "that ain't our silver cake basket, is it?"

"Bertie, didn't you hear Mrs. Moneyweight speaking?" chides his distressed parent.

"Well, I'll be quiet if you'll tell me whose pretty glasses these are. They're Mrs. Baxter's, ain't they?"

"Bertie!"

"Oh, ma, I forgot to tell that Mrs. Hooker wants you to be sure and send back her teaspoons to-night; and—oh, ma, did you know that Sally broke one of Mrs. Walker's nice teacups; and—oh, what a pretty plate this is! Who does it belong to?"

The doors had hardly closed on the last guest when the neighbors were apprised by the sound whose import could not be mistaken, that Bertie's time of reckoning had come.

Young Men, Read This!

It is very common for young men, I think, to determine the quality of their work by the price which they are paid for it. I only get, says such a one, $5 a week and I am sure that I am giving $5 worth of service; if my employer wants more, let him pay more; if he wants better let him give better wages. This is spacious reasoning, but it is false; and it is destructive to the best work, and therefore to the best manhood. No man can afford to do anything less well than his best. He who always strives to do his best work, in the very process of striving will grow better and better. Not only will he grow more skilful in that particular workmanship, but he will be better equipped for other workmanship. This is an absolutely universal law. It is the absolutely universal road to promotion.

The man who is careful to give nothing more than he gets rarely gets more than he gives. The man who works for his own sake, who puts the best part of himself into every blow that he strikes, who mixes all his work with brain and conscience, who studies to render the largest possible service regardless of the compensation which it brings, sooner or later will find his way on and up. The world learns his worth and calls him to higher service. Nor is this all. By stirring himself up to do always the best he can, he grows into a power to do better and ever better.

Fish Living in Hot Water.

There is a pond on the Lay ranch at Golconda, which is fed by the waters from the hot springs. This pond has an area of two or three acres, and the temperature of the water is about eighty-five degrees, and in some places where the hot water bubbles up from the bottom the temperature is almost up to the boiling point. Recently the discovery has been made that this warm lake is literally alive with carp, some of which are more than a foot long. All efforts to catch them with a hook and line have failed, as they will not touch the most tempting bait. A few of them have been shot, and, contrary to the general supposition, the flesh was hard and palatable. How the fish got into the lake is a mystery unsolved. Within 100 feet of it are springs which are boiling hot, and the ranchers in the vicinity use the water to scald hogs in the butchering season.

WOMEN IN A BREAD RIOT.

A Scene in Richmond in the Early Part of the War.

It was in the early part of the late war in, I think, the second year. Our armies (the Confederate) had been generally successful, and there was as yet little of that great suffering to which the people of the South were afterward to be reduced. The dearth of men in Richmond made it necessary to employ a large force of women in the various departments of the Government, a great many of them refugees, and many from the oldest and wealthiest of Southern aristocratic families.

The Treasury Department occupied on Broad street, in Richmond, a large store, and in that store a number of ladies were occupied in numbering and signing coupon bonds, and others in signing and numbering the one and two dollar notes with which the Confederacy was flooded.

One afternoon there was a rumor in Richmond that a body of disorderly women and boys had assembled on the Capital square, clamoring for bread. It was asserted that Gov. Letcher and the Mayor of the city had addressed them in the interest of law and order, and promised them relief.

But as yet little was known for certain, and I gave the rumor little thought, as I walked up Broad street the next morning toward the department, now only a few squares off.

"Bread! bread! give us bread!" amid a pandemonium of yells, startled me.

As I turned in alarm, a scene met my eyes that I will not soon forget.

Pouring out of a side street a motley crowd of women and boys surged up in my wake to the very building that was my goal. It was a striking and unique sight— not a man visible, but every woman in the city seemed to be there yelling for bread.

For me to be thus the unwilling leader of a mob was anything but a pleasant sensation, and hastening my steps, I reached the department just before it was closed against the mob. Halting in front of the building they vainly sought to force an entrance. Fearing that they might have firearms, our chief had given orders that the ladies should keep clear of the windows. But Mother Eve's vice got the better of us and we eagerly watched the crowd as they battered the doors, at the same time demanding that money should be given up to them.

Foiled in their attempt to obtain the Government's currency, they turned their attention to other more accessible plunder. A milliner's shop and a shoe store were quickly sacked and their contents appropriated. Decked with the unlawful spoil, they next proceeded to break in a bakery and appease their famished stomachs by emptying the flour into the streets and trampling the bread beneath their feet. While employed in this congenial occupation they were interrupted by the arrival of a detachment of soldiers, sent by the Governor to disperse the rioters. The troops opened fire with blank cartridges, with no other effect than causing a laugh and jeers from the mob, who seemed amused. The plundering continued, and there seemed no way of dispersing them without using bullets, which the soldiers were unwilling to do.

Finally, by charging with the bayonets, the military managed to stampede the crowd without, however, wounding any of them. They returned to their homes and gave no further trouble. To the credit of the women of the South it should be said that the women who inspired the riot, though in the South, were not of it, but the wives principally of foreigners who, when the war broke out went North, leaving their wives to carry on their market gardens and shops in Richmond, and thereby save their property: The leader of the riot, a market gardener, was said to be worth $10,000 in gold. Many of the participants were known to be almost as rich, but their victims were reduced to poverty. The leader of the rioters was sentenced to the penitentiary. It was thought in Richmond that it was concocted with a view of making the cause of the Confederacy appear more desperate than it then was, and thereby bring it in discredit both at home and abroad.

A Bad Man.

There was a man in the sleeping car, whom we all picked out as a gambler or worse. He had a face on him which seemed to express nothing but vice, and his voice would have frightened a baby into a crying spell. Some of the passengers went so far as to say that he would probably try to rob us in the night, and the porter was cautioned to keep an eye on him. As we were turning in, one after another, an old rustic who had been dozing in his seat for the last fifty miles got up with a yawn, and said to the gambler:

"Say, naybur, I've got $200 with me, and they say these cars hain't safe. I wish you'd take charge of the money until morning."

"Very well," was the quiet reply.

We were thunderstruck. The o[illegible] man was winked into the washroom a[illegible] told of our suspicions, and advised [illegible] give his money to the conductor, bu[illegible] sturdily replied:

"Why, that fellow is as honest as [illegible] yoke of cattle, and I shall let him ke[illegible] the money."

We went to bed believing the ol[illegible] man was a victim, and that he deserve[illegible] to be. The stranger would get off at some station during the night, of course, and there'd be a pretty row in the morning. But when morning came he was there. He was also the first one up. When old rustic got up his money was handed to him without a word.

"Well," said one as we were washing up, "this beats all my record."

"Oh! I knowed he was all right," smiled the old man.

"But how did you know it?"

"Why, he's my own brother!"

Meteorites are divided into five classes by Professor Tschermak. First, those consisting essentially of iron; second, those having an iron ground mass with inclosed silicates; third, those consisting chiefly of olivine and bronzite, with iron as a subordinate constituent; fourth, those consisting essentially of olivine, bronzite or pyroxene, and, fifth, those consisting essentially of augite, bronzite, lime, feldspar, with a shining crust.

READ THIS, NERVOUS SUFFERERS.

Do Not Fail to Heed the Warning.

Have you dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation, kidney and liver disease? Every hour you neglect them may take years from your life.

Have you nervousness, weakness, nervous debility, sleeplessness and exhaustion? Every beat of your heart is but a funeral march towards your grave.

Have you neuralgia, rheumatism, epilepsy, palpitation, the tobacco or morphine habit? Any one of these is liable at any moment to take your heart in its deadly grasp.

Have you headache, loss of memory, numbness, trembling, prickly sensation, cold feet or weariness of the limbs? The sword of Damocles is suspended above you, for just so sure as you neglect the symptoms, just so sure will paralysis, insanity, prostration or death follow.

Save yourselves from these alarming results while there is yet time by the use of that most wonderful discovery for the nerves, Dr. Greene's Nervura Nerve Tonic, which is a perfect and complete cure for all the above diseases. Pronounced the greatest medical discovery of the century.

It will take away your nervousness and make your nerves strong and steady. If you are weak, tired and exhausted, it will make you strong and vigorous. It will cure your indigestion and dyspepsia, give you an appetite, regulate your bowels, kidneys and liver. It will give you natural and refreshing sleep, stop all palpitation of the heart, trembling, numbness, headache and neuralgic pains. It is a perfect specific for nervous debility and exhausted nervous vitality. It is the best spring tonic, invigorator and restorative in existence, for it makes the weak strong, invigorates the tired and overworked brain, nerves the weary limbs, and restores health, strength and vitality.

Do not fail to use this wonderful remedy, and you are sure of a cure. For sale by all druggists at $1 per bottle. If your druggist does not have it, he will get it for you. Insist upon having Dr. Greene's Nervura Nerve Tonic. Its discoverer, Dr. Greene, is the great specialist in nervous diseases, of 35 West 14th St., New York, who can be consulted free of charge, personally or by letter.

KITCHEN AND MARKET GARDEN.—The problem which confronts English farmers will soon present itself to the American farmer, if it has not already done so. The problem is: What to cultivate? Lands, especially within easy reach of large cities, rapidly increase in value, and grain and meat must be raised on cheaper land. An acre in strawberries, or an acre of violets, will bring in more money than several acres in wheat. Not that we would advise farmers to all become gardeners at once, but it will pay every one of them to look into the matter of farm gardening. A manufacturing town, where many laborers are employed, is often a better market than a large city. In the spring, especially, anything in the way of "greens" will meet with ready sale. Spinach, sown the fall before, and wintered over for marketing in early spring, is a very profitable crop. Have hot-beds or window boxes ready, if not already sown, for sowing seeds of cabbages and other things to be transplanted. Sow the seeds six weeks earlier than the time when the weather will allow the plants to be set in the open ground. Window-boxes will supply plants enough for the family garden, and be of far less trouble. The older children will enjoy caring for the seedlings. When they become large enough, transplant to similar boxes of soil, shading them for a few days before full exposure to the sun.

POLE AND WIRE FENCE.—We recently saw several long strings of a combination fence, that must be the best, all things considered, in many localities. Posts are set twelve feet apart in a straight line. Within five or six inches of each post a stout stake, thirty inches long, is fastened by passing two strands of heavy fencing wire around it and the post above and below. Poles fourteen feet long are laid with their ends in the spaces between the posts and the stakes. This makes the fence pig-proof below, and where timber is plenty the poles are cheaper than boards. The stake is not driven into the ground; the wires hold it firmly against the poles, and if the wire is galvanized it will last for many years. Above the poles are stretched three strands of wire, making the fence high enough, The wire may be smooth or barbed as the builder prefers, and of course the posts may be put any convenient distance apart. The fence is easily made, and when the poles are of good timber and cut at the proper time, the posts durable, and the wire galvanized, a fence that is stronger, needs fewer repairs, or will last longer; is hard to find.

AFTER removing the mulch in the spring from the strawberries hoe between the rows after the soil shall have become somewhat warmed, as that will let more warmth and air down to the roots. A small proportion of wood ashes scattered along the rows after hoeing would be very beneficial.

Some Foolish People

Allow a cough to run until it gets beyond the reach of medicine. They often say, "Oh, it will wear away," but in most cases it wears them away. Could they be induced to try the successful medicine called Kemp's Balsam, they would immediately see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Large bottles, 50 cents and $1.00. Trial size free. At all Druggists.

QUALITY SUPERIOR TO QUANTITY.—"My dear," said a New York man to his wife, after perusing the evening paper, "are you aware of the fact that a man's brain weighs three and a half pounds?"

"You've just read that, haven't you?'

"Yes."

"Well, doesn't that article say that a woman's is somewhat lighter?"

"It certainly does."

"And it also informs you that a woman's brain is of much finer quality?"

"Yes."

"Well, then, just concentrate your three-and-a-half-pound intellect on that scuttle, and figure out how much it will weigh after you bring it up full of coal from the cellar."

The man with the great head departed for the lower regions in search of information.

Why Laura Lost Her Beau.

Laura once had an affluent beau,
Who called twice a fortnight, or so,
Now she sits, Sunday eve,
All lonely to grieve,
Oh, where is her recreant beau,
And why did he leave Laura so?

Why, he saw that Laura was a languishing, delicate girl, subject to sick headaches, sensitive nerves and uncertain tempers; and knowing what a life-long trial is a fretful, sickly wife, he transferred his attentions to her cheerful, healthy cousin, Ellen. The secret is that Laura's health and strength are sapped by chronic weakness, peculiar to her sex, which Ellen averts and avoids by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is the only remedy, for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case or money will be refunded. See guarantee on bottle wrapper.

Wet a gunpowder burn with linseed oil and lime-water mixed, for a few days, and when beginning to heal apply vaseline.

He ate green cucumbers;
They made him quite sick;
But he took a few "Pellets"
That cured him right quick.
An easier physic
You never will find
Than Pierce's small "Pellets,"
The Purgative kind.
Small but precious. 25 cents per vial.

In case of neuralgic headache relief may result from drinking a cup of strong coffee containing the juice of a lemon.

A Flat Contradiction.

Some one has told you that catarrh is incurable. It is not so. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will cure it. It is pleasant to use and it always does its work thoroughly. We have yet to hear of a case in which it did not accomplish a cure when faithfully used. Catarrh is a disease which it is dangerous to neglect. A certain remedy is at your command. Avail yourself of it before the complaint assumes a more serious form. All druggists.

HE had invited her around the corner for some oysters, to which the young lady did full justice, and on the way back to the house he laid bare the pitiable condition of his heart. "I am very sorry, Mr. Sampson," she said, "but I am already engaged." He bowed his head. "I regret that you are so deeply moved," the girl said gently. "Ah, yes," he responded and his voice betrayed genuine grief, "I should have known all this earlier in the evening."

GOOD MINISTER—What? weeping? I have come just in time. You are experiencing a change of heart.

Unregenerate Girl—N-o, my heart hasn't changed, but—boo, boo! his has.

IMITATING BISMARCK.—Judge Duffy—You were arrested, sir, while making a speech from a dray while under the influence of liquor.

Prisoner—Did you say the dray was under the influence of liquor, Judge?

"You know what I mean. Are you guilty or not?"

'Guilty of making a speech?"

"Guilty of being drunk!"

"No, sir; I was not drunk your Honor. I was only experimenting."

"In what way?"

"I read, your Honor, that Bismarck took sixteen drinks of whisky while making his recent great speech, and I wanted to see if it could be done."

"How did you succeed?"

"I succeeded in getting into the lock-up."

"Well, you will probably succeed in getting a situation on the Island if you keep on trying to imitate Bismarck in that way. You may go this time, but you had better quit speech-making on the Bismarck plan."

"Thank you, Judge, I will."

ANYTHING TO ACCOMMODATE.—Husband—I can't stand this my dear. There is nothing on the table fit to eat, and I actually have not had a meal that did me any good for three or four days. I can't work and fast, too, that's sure.

Wife—I know it, but what am I to do? The children are sick and I haven't time to prepare the meals myself.

"The girl can cook well enough when she wants to."

"Yes, but she doesn't care now. She's going away."

"Why, she hasn't been here much over a week, What's the matter?"

"Her room faces south and she complains that she can't sit by her window and see what's going on outdoors without getting freckled."

"Well, my dear, we must live somehow. Ask her if she'll stay if I turn the house around."

UNDERSTOOD THE CASE.—Mother—Why, my dear, you don't seem a bit happy.

Recently Married Daughter—I am about as happy as most wives, I suppose.

"Doesn't your husband treat you well?"

"Oh, yes; in a humdrum sort of way. He's a very ordinary, everyday sort of a man."

"Oh, well, my dear, girls can't expect to be pirates' brides in this practical age, you know."

"I suppose not."

"No. I know what's the matter. You need excitement. Get a servant girl."

ST. PETER (to applicant)—You say you were an editorial writer on a New York newspaper?

Applicant—Yes, sir.

St. Peter—Step into the elevator, please.

Applicant (stepping into the elevator)—How soon does it go up?

St. Peter—It doesn't go up; it goes down.

Now is the Time

Now is the time to purify your blood and fortify your system against the debilitating effects of spring weather. Serious consequences often follow this lassitude, which degenerates into debility most favorable for the appearance of disorders. You are run down. No specific disease has manifested itself, but the condition of your system is low and your blood is in a disordered state. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now, before some serious disease gains a firm hold upon your system.

Purify Your Blood

"I was troubled with an eruption of my skin, which covered nearly my whole body. I doctored for it a year without help; then I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and two bottles completely cured me. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla for any similar disease." M. S. CLARKE, Decatur, Ill.

"For some years I have been afflicted with eczema of a very stubborn form. Three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me. I am now well and praise this excellent remedy." MARY L. OWENS, Troy, Ind.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared from Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Mandrake, Dock, Pipsissewa, Juniper Berries, and other vegetable remedies, in such a peculiar manner as to derive the full medicinal value of each. It will cure, when in the power of medicine, scrofula, salt rheum, sores, boils, pimples, all humors, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, indigestion, general debility, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints. It overcomes that extreme tired feeling

Build Up the System

"Last spring I seemed to be running down in health, was weak and tired all the time. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it did me a great deal of good. My little daughter ten years old, has suffered from scrofula and catarrh, a great deal. Hood's Sarsaparilla did her more good than anything else we have ever given her, and we have tried a number of medicines." MRS. LOUISA CORP, Canastota, N. Y.

N. B.—If you have decided to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other.

Many CHRONIC DISEASES Successfully Treated without a Personal Consultation.

WE obtain our knowledge of the patient's disease by the application, to the practice of medicine, of well-established principles of modern science. The most ample resources for treating lingering or chronic diseases, and the greatest skill, are thus placed within the easy reach of invalids, however distant they may reside. Write and describe your symptoms, inclosing ten cents in stamps, and a complete treatise, on your particular disease, will be sent you, with our opinion as to its nature and curability.

OUR FIELD OF SUCCESS.

NASAL, THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES. The treatment of Diseases of the Air Passages and Lungs, such as Chronic Catarrh in the Head, Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption, both through correspondence and at our institutions, constitutes an important specialty.

We publish three separate books on Nasal, Throat and Lung Diseases, which give much valuable information, viz: (1) A Treatise on Consumption, Laryngitis and Bronchitis; price, post-paid, ten cents. (2) A Treatise on Asthma, or Phthisic, giving new and successful treatment; price, post-paid, ten cents. (3) A Treatise on Chronic Catarrh in the Head; price, post-paid, two cents.

DISEASES OF DIGESTION. Dyspepsia, "Liver Complaint," Obstinate Constipation, Chronic Diarrhea, Tape-worms, and kindred affections, are among those chronic diseases in the successful treatment of which our specialists have attained great success. Our Complete Treatise on Diseases of the Digestive Organs will be sent to any address on receipt of ten cents in postage stamps.

KIDNEY DISEASES. BRIGHT'S DISEASE, DIABETES, and kindred maladies, have been very largely treated, and cures effected in thousands of cases which had been pronounced beyond hope. These diseases are readily diagnosticated, or determined, by chemical analysis of the urine, without a personal examination of patients, who can, therefore, generally be successfully treated at their homes. The study and practice of chemical analysis and microscopical examination of the urine in our consideration of cases, with reference to correct diagnosis, in which our institution long ago became famous, has naturally led to a very extensive practice in diseases of the urinary organs.

CAUTION. These diseases should be treated only by a specialist thoroughly familiar with them, and who is competent to ascertain the exact condition and stage of advancement which the disease has made (which can only be ascertained by a careful chemical and microscopical examination of the urine), for medicines which are curative in one stage or condition do positive injury in others.

Being in constant receipt of numerous inquiries for a complete work on the nature and curability of these maladies, written in a style to be easily understood, we have published a large, Illustrated Treatise on these diseases, which will be sent to any address on receipt of ten cents in postage stamps.

BLADDER DISEASES. INFLAMMATION OF THE BLADDER, STONE IN THE BLADDER, Gravel, Enlarged Prostate Gland, Retention of Urine, and kindred affections, may be included among those in the cure of which our specialists have achieved extraordinary success. These are fully treated of in our Illustrated Pamphlet on Urinary Diseases. Sent by mail for 10 cts. in stamps.

STRICTURE. STRICTURES AND URINARY FISTULAS.—Hundreds of cases of the worst form of strictures, many of them greatly aggravated by the careless use of instruments in the hands of inexperienced physicians and surgeons, causing false passages, urinary fistulæ, and other complications, annually consult us for relief and cure. That no case of this class is too difficult for the skill of our specialists is proved by cures reported in our illustrated treatise on these maladies, to which we refer with pride. To intrust this class of cases to physicians of small experience, is a dangerous proceeding. Many a man has been ruined for life by so doing, while thousands annually lose their lives through unskillful treatment. Send particulars of your case and ten cents in stamps for a large, Illustrated Treatise containing many testimonials.

NERVOUS DISEASES. Epileptic Convulsions, or Fits, Paralysis, or Palsy, Locomotor Ataxia, St. Vitus's Dance, Insomnia, or inability to sleep, and threatened insanity, Nervous Debility, and every variety of nervous affection, are treated by our specialists for these diseases with unusual success. See numerous cases reported in our different illustrated pamphlets on nervous diseases, any one of which will be sent for ten cents in postage stamps, when request for them is accompanied with a statement of a case for consultation, so that we may know which one of our Treatises to send.

DISEASES OF WOMEN. We have a Special Department, devoted exclusively to the treatment of Diseases of Women. Every case consulting our specialists, whether by letter or in person, is given the most careful and considerate attention. Important cases (and we get few which have not already baffled the skill of all the home physicians) have the benefit of a full Council of skilled specialists. Rooms for ladies in the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute are very private. Send ten cents in stamps for our Complete Treatise on Diseases of Women, illustrated with wood-cuts and colored plates (160 pages).

RADICAL CURE OF RUPTURE. HERNIA (Breach), or RUPTURE, no matter of how long standing, or of what size, is promptly and permanently cured by our specialists, without the knife and without dependence upon trusses. Abundant references. Send ten cents for our Illustrated Treatise.

PILES, FISTULÆ, and other diseases affecting the lower bowels, are treated with wonderful success. The worst cases of pile tumors, are permanently cured in fifteen to twenty days. Send ten cents for Illustrated Treatise.

WEAK MEN. Organic weakness, nervous debility, premature decline of the manly powers, involuntary losses, impaired memory, mental anxiety, absence of will-power, melancholy, weak back, and all affections arising from youthful indiscretions and pernicious, solitary practices, are speedily, thoroughly and permanently cured.

We, many years ago, established a Special Department for the treatment of these diseases, under the management of some of the most skillful physicians and surgeons on our Staff, in order that all who apply to us might receive all the advantages of a full Council of the most experienced specialists.

WE OFFER NO APOLOGY. We offer no apology for devoting so much attention to this neglected class of diseases, believing that no condition of humanity is too wretched to merit the sympathy and best services of the noble profession to which we belong. Why any medical man, intent on doing good and alleviating suffering, should shun such cases, we cannot imagine. Why any one should consider it otherwise than most honorable to cure the worst cases of these diseases, we cannot understand; and yet of all the other maladies which afflict mankind there is probably none about which physicians in general practice know so little. We shall, therefore, continue, as heretofore, to treat with our best consideration, sympathy, and skill, all applicants who are suffering from any of these delicate diseases.

CURED AT HOME. Most of these cases can be treated by us when at a distance as well as if here in person.

A Complete Treatise (136 pages) on these delicate diseases sent sealed, in plain envelope, secure from observation, on receipt of only ten cents, in stamps, for postage. All statements made and secrets confided to us will be held to be sacredly confidential.

All letters of inquiry, or of consultation, should be addressed to ——Samuel Slack informs us that the grain fields in his section of Potter township look promising.

——Will Ruble and family moved from this place to the Love farm near Tusseyville, on Tuesday of this week.

——S. W. Smith, lately employed in the Gazette office, has obtained a position in one of the Lewistown offices.

——An 18 year old colored boy has been arrested in Philadelphia for marrying two wives inside of four month.

——They say trout bit lively in Cherry and Swift Runs last Sunday. A good field for the home missionary society.

——Christian Derr, an old citizen of Bellefonte, died last week. He had been in failing health for a number of years.

——Mr. Reesman and Mr. Bairfoot, who have been on the invalid list for several weeks are able to be out on fine days.

——Ice cream season is opening and young fellows who have girls, want to keep a few dimes on hand or steer clear of those establishments.

——Onion sets are scarce, and selling as high as 30 cents per quart in some of the larger towns. In our stores they have retailed at 15 cents per quart.

——Monday morning opened with the ground and house tops white with snow; before noon, however, the sky brightened and the rest of the day was lovely.

—Samuel H. Williams, of Bellefonte has been ppointed quartermaster of the Fifth regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania, vice C. G. McMillan, resigned.

——Aaronsburg rejoices in a lot of new boardwalks, extending to the west end of town, and to second street reaching the Lutheran church—and all was badly needed.

——John Hubler, an old and well known citizen of Miles township, died on Thursday, 12th. Mr. Hubler had been in an almost helpless condition for over a year.

—- The grain fields are showing an improved appearance with each day, and the hearts of our farmers are being gladdened with the prospect of an old fashioned wheat crop.

——Potatoes are selling at 70 and 75 cents per bushel on track in this valley They bring 90 cents in the coal regions and at Altoona, last week, were retailing at $1 20 per bushel.

——Last Saturday was cool and blustery, with rain early in the morning. During the day lonely snow flakes steered carelessly thro the air, remnants of some Dakota blizzard, no doubt.

——Mr and Mrs. Will Fagan, of Conemaugh Borough, have buried all five of their children since the 21st of last month. Their deaths were caused by diptheria. Their ages were from 9 to 1½ years.

——Subscribe for the Reporter for the campaign at 10 cents per month. Any one sending us names for the campaign and the cash, will get a fifth copy free. Reader can't you get us a few names? Try it.

—- John Harris having intimated he would buy a lot in our town, one of the Bellefonte papers ironically says, Centre Hall has a boom. Mr. Harris is looking around for a site to plant an elderberry orchard.

——Lawyers Orvis, Gephart, Keller and Dale, are attending supreme court at Philadelphia, this week. The weight of the Centre county bar will be felt no doubt. Fred'k Kurtz has been drawn as a grand juror for U. S. Court, at Pittsburg May 7.

——This morning 12th Rev. George Hunter and wife take the train for Lee's X Roads, Cumberland county, Pa., where the former will be located in the future as the pastor of the Evangelical church —Lewisburg Journal.

Rev. Hunter, was stationed at this place some years ago and is an able minister in that church.

——The News, of last Thursday says: At one o'clock this morning Mr. Amos Garbrick's stable at Coleville was destroyed by fire with all its contents, including a team of handsome black horses, a cow, grain, hay, ice, tools and other articles. The origin of the fire is not known, but Mr. Garbrick believes it to be incendiary. His loss is $1,000 and the insurance $500.

——The Lewisburg News says that quiet boro' is at last getting life and abooming in spite of some croakers who croaked and choked enterprises. Glad of it; let the wheels of enterprize go on, everywhere and grind the croakers to powder We have the same kind of croakers and chokers in Centre Hall, but the town works ahead backed by the Reporter, in spite of 'em.

——Reub Spangler received a curiosity by express this week. It was a box containing a pair of beautiful white rats. Their coat is pure white, the tip of the nose and feet are delicate red, while their eyes sparkle like small purple beads. These rodents are much different from the ordinary common rat; as they are tame and can be handled as pets by children. They are not destructive by any means and when let run about the premises it is said they will drive the other species away.

—- Talmage, in his sermon on jealousy, last Sabbath, wound up as follows: "Surely this world is large enough for you and all your rivals. God has given you a work to do. Go ahead and do it. Mind your own business. In all circles, in all businesses, in all professions there is room for straightforward success. Jealousy entertained will not only bedwarf your soul, but it will flatten your skull, bemean your eyes, pot pinchedness of look about the nostrils, give a bad curl to your lip, and expel from your face the divine image in, which you were created. If you are assailed by jealousy make no answer. Take it as a compliment, for people are never jealous of a failure."

A CRAZY WOMAN PASSES THROUGH TOWN.

On last Sunday evening at about six o'clock a woman with her dress drawn up over her head for a covering was seen coming upthe Brushvalley road; she was walking at a rapid pace and her actions and general appearance as she passed up church street, keeping the middle of the road, attracted the attention of every one who saw her. She stopped at one of the houses and asked for lodging but were unable to keep her as they had no vacant room. She then resumed her journey westward and arrived at Samuel Bruss' who allowed her to remain at their home over night. Mr. Bruss informed us that from her actions she must have escaped from some asylum. She said she had been in the Lewistown poor house also in a similar institution at Harrisburg and at the asylum at Danville from which place she likely escaped. At times she would sit and talk to herself speaking of her husband John and money she had invested in machinery. She was poorly clad and said she left in a hurry and didn't have time to get all her clothes; she had been away five weeks, was on her way to Altoona and would return again in two weeks. When asked as to where she would return, replied that she didn't know where. She was about five feet ten inches in height wore a bonnet, and a dark blue dress, and is about thirty five years old.

DEATH OF AN AGED LADY.

Mother Korman, of Rebersburg, died on Friday last at the advanced age of 96 years and 10 days. She was the oldest person in Brushvalley, and one of the pioneer families of Miles township, and with her deceased husband went thro the rigors of frontier life, felling the forest and clearing land for the opening of a farm and home. Mrs. Korman assisted her husband in all this work and besides aided him constantly on the farm. She was of a remarkable robust constitution and altho going thro many hardships, and rearing a large family, she never suffered for want of good health with which she was blessed until recently. In the last few years her eyesight began to fail and she became totally blind. Among some of her experiences were incidents from Indian troubles, which in her younger years, were the terror of the settlers of that day. Among her children still living there occur to us the names of Henry Korman, of Rebersburg, Mrs. David Witmer of Wisconsin, and Mrs. Sparr of Harris township. She was buried at Rebersburg on Tuesday.

ATTEMPTED HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

On Monday morning as Mr. Harbach was passing thro the Narrows at Millheim, on his way to Geisweit's sawmill in Brushvalley, where he is employed, as he was crossing the old bridge in the narrows he was suddenly pounced on by two men. One of them grabbed Harbach by the throat and began to choke him, and the other ran his hands into his pockets for his pocket book, when Harback, badly scared, bethought himself of a pistol he had, which he drew and fired, but in the excitement of the moment, missed his man. The two scamps then beat a hasty retreat and Harbach, pale with fright, passed on thro the Narrows and related his adventure at the first house. He alleges he sent a ball thro the one fellow's hat. Had he returned to Millheim at once and sworn out a warrant, the scamps might have been arrested.

THE NEWSPAPER.

No paper can be pudlished without home patronage, and every man is interested in keeping up a home paper if it is at all enterprising. If a railroad or factory is wanted, the newspapers are expected to work for it. If a public meeting is wanted for any purpose, the paper is calculated on for a free notice. If the charitable societies have a supper or social of any kind the newspaper is expected to give all the necessary notices, and puff it after it is over. The newspapers must puff the schools and do everything else to advance the interest of the business men of the place, and then give them a nice notice when they go to heaven. And yet some of them do nothing to keep the paper alive, while others damn it because it will not be bluffed and bull dozed by imaginary bosses.

LAWN TENNIS CLUBS.

Centre Hall can now boast of two splendid lawn tennis clubs which have been organized during the last week. The first consists of a part of last years organization and contains several fine players. They have cleared up and laid out a court on the same ground used last season, the old brick yard. The boys, who founded the second organization, purchased a complete outfit of racquets, balls, nets, etc. this week, and laid out a court at the same place. Lawn Tennis seems to be the popular game among the young men of the town. The young ladies should keep up by organizing a club, then challenge the young men, for when it comes down town to a "racket" girls always get there "vehementer".

JOHN BUBB'S BIG TROUT.

John Bubb, of Williamsport, tells how a few years ago he caught a monster trout in one of the streams of Lycoming county, upon which his ancestors had practiced before him and who had related to him wonderful stories of the big fish. The trout was 117 years old, weighed 84 pounds, when landed, and had a set of false teeth. Owing to the loss of the latter, which had on a previous occasion been pulled from its mouth by Mr. Bubb, the trout had become somewhat emaciated and only pulled the scales down at the above figure. To capture it Mr. Bubb says he had a hook made at a blacksmith shop and used a green goslin for a bate.—Breakfasttable

THE EMPTINESS OF FAME.

One phrase in General William T. Sherman's address at the Ohio dinner deserves more than mere repetition.

You all seem to be young and healthy and wish for fame, but remember, there is far more pleasure in anticipation of the acquisition than after you have got it The honors I have achieved compare very poorly with the hopes and aspirations I had when only 20 years of age.

AARONSBURG.

B. F. Burd has quit gathering cream and E. G. Mingle has taken his place.

Miss Latchaw opened a summer school on last Monday with 24 pupils in attendance.

D. K. Musser will leave for Kansas on next Monday morning and his brother Andrew takes charge of the shoe store at Millheim.

Jonnie Russel, of near Lewisburg came to town on Monday evening and on Tuesday attended the funeral of his sister-inlaw, Mrs. Korman, at Rebersburg.

Mrs. R. E. Rogers who has been sick for quite a while is not improving very much.

The attendence at the services held in the Reformed church last Sunday morning and conducted by Rev. Gring was large and the lecture interesting.

Newton and Minnie Kurtz, of Mifflinburg, spent Sunday in our town.

Mrs. Krigbone, who has kept the toll gate for the past 18 months, has resigned her position, and on the first of May will move to Williamsport.

A child of Johnson Krape in walking backwards fell into a pail of hot water and was severely scalded.

Frank Torbet moved a new saw mill on to the tract of timberland lately purchased from the Vonada estate.

With the traditional perseverance of inventors Mr. Huge Robertson, the designer of the great raft that broke loose last fall on the Atlantic, is hard at work building another. He has fifty men at work on the shores of the bay of Fundy and expects to launch his craft in June. Strictly speaking it is not a raft, but a great ship without hold or cabin, a solid mass of lumber 600 feet long, 54 deep and 38 wide, fitted with six masts, square rigging, and full stearing gear. On two of the masts will be powerful self-feeding lamps capable of burning thirty days. so that in case it should be abandoned it would not be so dangerous to commerce as an unlighted wreck.

WIRE FENCES DANGEROUS TO STOCK.

On last Thursday evening the 5, during a thunder storm, Mr. James O'Bryan lost one of his best cows, the animal along with two other cows were in the stable, the lightning striking a wire fence which runs along the upper part of his lot following the same to the corner of the stable and killing one cow instantly. It was the severest storm we have ever experienced in this locality for so early in the season.—Centre Democrat.

——Some of Centre Hall's windows display beautiful flowers.

——Don't fail to visit Pearlstine's new store when in Bellefonte.

——James Alexander, of Unionville, died on Monday morning.

——Mr. Ramey, farmer, of Pleasant Gap, gave our sanctum a call.

——Still going up—the brick work of Bro. Kerr's new Presb. church.

——D. F. Luse is painting house and barn for Daniel Wolf, in Haines township.

——Will Kurtz has a new and handsome iron fence for the front of his residence.

——The weather of late has been as changeable as the hats and dresses of the women.

——Attorney J. C. Harper of Bellefonte paid our sanctum a short visit on Wednesday morning.

——Millheim had a spring opening of all new merchants—a change of proprietors in all its stores.

——Spring and summer stock of ready made clothing is being unpacked at the Rochester clothing House, Bellefonte.

——J. W. Wolf took the Wednesday morning train for Philadelphia to select a new stock of goods for the summer season.

——Lyon & Co. have unpacked an immense line of Spring and summer goods and quote prices on same in another column.

——The funeral of mother Korman, at Rebersburg, on Tuesday, was a very large one. Her exact age was 96 years and 10 days.

——Stop in at Flemings, fashionable tailoring establishment, Bellefonte, and see the new styles in gents clothing for spring and summer.

——A. C. Mingle has something to say in another column in regard to boots and shoes. Don't fail to visit Mingle's shoe store when in Bellefonte.

——Fleming the tailor, Bellefonte, has opened up his new stock for suitings, for spring and summer wear. New styles will be worn this year and he has them in stock.

——Miss Rachael Yearick, born and reared in Mifflinburg, but for the last two years residing at Los Angeles, Cal., was married at the latter place on April 3d, to a Mr. Smith, of New Richmond, Wisconsin.

— Young man if you want to keep up with the styles stop buying second hand cheap clothing and go to, Fleming, the tailor Bellefonte, for a fine fitting suit. Keeps only the latest styles and the best workmen. Give him a trial and have the latest.

——Misses Emma and Mollie Snyder firm of Snyder Sisters, have gone to New York and Philadelphia to purchase the finest selection and largest stock of millinery ever brought to Bellefonte, or Centre county. General opening days, Thursday, and Friday, April 26 and 27. All are invited. Snyder Sisters, Bellefonte, Pa.

——If our readers want to see a machine that will beat eggs "quicker'n lightning" they should, call at McFarlane's hardware store in Bellefonte, where the Keystone Egg Beater is for sale It is the best device for that purpose ever made. It is not one of those common humbugs peddled from door to door, but a first class article just as represented.

——Spring Mills' monied men talk of establishing a bank in that place. The names of Maj. Fischer, Mr. Eisenhart, and others, are mentioned in connection with the movement. With half dozen good stores, and other business industries, Spring Mills and Penn Hall would find a bank quite an addition and convenience; they would wisely need to take care, however, that it be not used for dirty jobs in politics and to breed petty quarrels among neighbors and in churches, and so on, and become an actual curse to the community instead of a convenience. Much banking business by that community is done at Bellefonte, and a decent institution of the kind in the, place, would keep the trade at home.

CURIOUS MATRIMONIAL MIX.

A NEGRO AND A WHITE MAN EACH CLAIM A PRETTY BLONDE AS HIS WIFE.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 11.—A remarkable scene was enacted in Alderman Rooney's court here at 1 o'clock to-day. George Gaines, a well known colored porter, whose face is as black as night, appeared as the complainant against a good looking white man named Charles Williams, who claims Clearfield as his home, charging him with an attempt to abduct his wife Ida, a handsome and stately blonde of 30, who came to this city a short time ago and was married to Gaines by a suburban justice of the peace. Williams swore that the woman was his wife, he having married her several years ago, and is the mother of their four children, who are at Clearfield. The woman admitted the truth of the statement, and seemed anxious to return with Williams. They were arrested at the depot while waiting for a train Williams and his alleged wife were committed to the county prison in default of $500 bail each.

CREAMERY AT MILLHEIM.

Work was begun at Millheim last week for the purpose of erecting a creamery by some of its enterprising citizens. Creameries must bring in the boodle like a young mint. Since the erection and the operation of the Spring Mills establishment, one has been started at Lemont and is in operation, Millheim follows as third on the list, and the fourth one we hear will be erected at or near Bellefonte. In fact butter factories and printing establishments are getting thick in old Centre, and next in order will be for each, to form a trust, work on half time, force up prices and then retire from business as millionaires and boodlers.

CALLIOPIAN LITERARY SOCIETY.

For several weeks past the literary geniuses and Demosthenic disciples of this place have been at work trying to organize a literary society, and success has attended the effort. An organization has been effected with about forty members. The name adopted is "The Calliopian Literary Society of Centre Hall". The society meets on Tuesday evening of each week at seven o'clock in the school house and exercises will consist of essays, recitations, declamations, orations and debate. The meetings are public and all are invited to attend.

LOOK OUT FOR A SURPRISE.

On Tuesday morning, Mr. J. W. Wolf, of the firm of Wm. Wolf & Son, merchants of this place, took the east bound train, and will be gone for a week or more. He expects to visit all the eastern markets for the purpose of selecting a spring and summer stock of goods, which will be here in a short time. They are making a special effort this year to have the very latest in all kinds of dress and furnishing goods. You can look out for a surprise when their stock arrives as it will be the finest ever opened in Pennsvalley and cheaper than ever.

CAUTION.

The undersigned have purchased, at constable's sale, all the personal property of Howard Smith, of near Farmers Mills to wit: Cow, cookstove, coal stove, 2 sinks, 4 beds, flour chest, 9 chairs, 2 clocks, chest carpenter tools, and all his personal property and will leave the same in his possession. All persons are hereby cautioned against meddling with said property.

OF INTEREST TO ALL.

We wish to call your attention to a few facts which are of importance to every one. The first principle in practical economy is to exercise the greatest care in making your purchases of the necessaries of life, such as food, clothing, shoes, etc. In judicious shopping you save money and get what you want, and to apply this we would say if you want to buy a certain article go to that store which handles those goods only. We keep a complete boot and shoe store only, and that is all. But in our line we have every thing—all grades, qualities and styles, of boots and shoes. We are offering our goods at rates that defy competition.

We would call your attention to our stock of plow shoes and work shoes which are the best and cheapest ever shown in Bellefonte.

THE REASON WHY.

Many ask us the reason why our goods are much cheaper than any where else. In reply we would say that we have been in the business for years, know how to buy, we handle large quantities and get better commission than many others and hence can sell our goods cheaper. We think you will find it to your interest to buy your boots & shoes at Powers Shoe Store, Bellefonte.

KAISER FREDERICK DYING.

CROWN PRINCE APPOINTED REGENT.

Berlin, April 17, 2 A. M.—The Emperor is dying, and has appointed the Crown Prince as regent. The extreme gravity of his Majesty's condition was made public yesterday afternoon when a bulletin was issued at 3.30, signed by Drs. Mackenzie, Wegner, Krause and Hovell, to the effect that he did not pass a good night, bronchitis having supervened yesterday, accompanied by a high fever and shortness of breath. A later report declared that inflammation of the lungs had set in, and official confirmation of this statement was obtained. There is no longer ground for hope. In the court circle it is abandoned, and his Majesty himself has finally surrendered by signing the decree appointing the Crown Prince regent, with full power to act in all matters. This document was obtained by Bismarck on Sunday night.

——Vance McCormick moved into John Neff's house on Church st.

——Mr. Whiteman goes quite lame from a severe sprain of the foot.

——Miss Lizzie Lingle, of Milesburg, is visiting Miss Lettie Ross, of this place

——Gov. Beaver was in town on Wednesday morning. The governor looks well, and his friends here were pleased to have a shake of his hands.

——For many years previous the faculty at State College has been opposed to the introduction of any Greek fraternity or secret society in that institution. During the last year the obnoxious clause has been stricken out, and the first secret society was organized last Friday. The Phi Gamma Delta fraternity has the honor of establishing the first college fraternity in P. S C. The organization took place at the Bush House, Bellefonte and had six representative young men as charter members of the new fraternity.

The death of the new Emperor of Germany is looked for any day.

COMMISSIONERS' SALE OF UNSEATED LANDS.

In pursuance of an Act of Assembly approved the 29 day of March, A. D. 1824, the County Commissioners will sell at public sale at the Court House in the Borough of Bellefonte on Thursday, the 10 day of May, 1888, the following tracts of unseated lands which had been sold to the county for unpaid taxes at sundry Treasurers' Sales, and which have remained in their hands unredeemed for five years or more to wit:—
